

BRIAN MICHAEL MOORE – Tenor

Brian Michael Moore is a tenor from Cincinnati, Ohio. From 2020 to 2023 Brian Michael Moore has been a member of the Oper Frankfurt ensemble making his house debut as Schmidt in Werther and singing in many productions, also with leading roles as the Duke of Mantua in Rigoletto, Narraboth in Salome or the title role in Britten's The Prodigal Son. He has been heard also as the Shepherd in Stravinsky's Oedipus Rex, Remendado in Barrie Kosky's stunning production of Carmen, a Singer in the new creation Waiting for Today with music by Arnold Schönberg and Frank Martin, a Vision of a Young Man in Die Frau ohne Schatten, Flute in Britten's A Midsummer Night's Dream and Eumaios in Dallapiccola's Ulisse. In the 2022/23 season he appeared in Richard Strauss' Capriccio, Franz Schreker's Der Ferne Klang, Mercadante's Francesca da Rimini and Britten's The burning fiery furnace.

He has been selected for the seasons 2018-19 and 2019-20 by Lindemann Young Artist Development Program at Metropolitan Opera, where he had his company debut in Il tabarro and he performed in Die Zauberflöte and in La traviata.

He has been a member of the Young Artists Program at Los Angeles Opera, where he had the chance to sing in several productions under the baton of James Conlon, such as Salome (Jude), Tosca (Spoletta), Carmen (Remendado) and Candide (The Governor). At L.A. Opera he sang also the role of Nathanael in Les Contes d'Hoffmann conducted by Placido Domingo. He has already sung also with LA Philharmonic Orchestra, in a concert version of Die Zauberflöte conducted by Gustavo Dudamel.

In the summer of 2015, he performed the Duke of Mantua in Rigoletto at both Asheville Lyric Opera and Brevard Music Festival. In the summer of 2016, he participated in the Merola Opera Program of San Francisco Opera, performing in Conrad Susa's Transformations. He has also appeared as the Shepherd in Stravinsky's Oedipus Rex at Cincinnati May Festival under the baton of James Conlon, as Don Ottavio in Don Giovanni with New York Opera Exchange and as the Animal Tamer in Der Rosenkavalier at Cincinnati Opera. During the summer 2018 he returned to the Merola Opera Program to participate in the Schwabacher Summer Concerts.

In the summer of 2017 he had two important engagements: Don Ottavio in Don Giovanni conducted by James Conlon at Festival dei Due Mondi di Spoleto (Italy) and Luke Bedford's Seven Angels at Aspen Music Festival with Yves Abel as conductor. In December 2017 he was again Don Ottavio in Don Giovanni at Teatro Coccia di Novara, with "Luigi Cherubini" Young Orchestra conducted by Matteo Beltrami.

Brian Michael Moore is a winner of the 2018 Sara Tucker Study Grant, and he was recognized as "Una Finestra Sui Due Mondi" from the 2017 Spoleto Festival Dei Due Mondi. He completed his bachelor of music and master of music at the Manhattan School of Music, where he studied with Mark Oswald.

LATEST PERFORMANCES: Romeo et Juliette at Theater an der Wien; Lili Elbe by Tobias Picker (world premiere) at Theater St. Gallen; Carmen (Don José) at Oper im Steinbruch in Sankt Margarethen; Britten's The prodigal son and The burning fiery furnace, Schreker's Der Ferne Klang and Mercadante's Francesca da Rimini in Frankfurt; Les contes d'Hoffmann (Hoffmann) in Göteborg; Rigoletto in Frankfurt.

FORTHCOMING PROJECTS: Das Rheingold at Tyrol Festival Erl; Prokofiev's The Love of Three Oranges, Die Fledermaus, Macbeth (Macduff) and Tosca (Cavaradossi) in St. Gallen; Romeo et Juliette at Semperoper Dresden; Der fliegende Holländer at Oper im Steinbruch in Sankt Margarethen.

Last update: June 2024, please do not use any previous version.